

PEARSON BTEC LEVEL 3 FOUNDATION DIPLOMA IN CREATIVE DIGITAL MEDIA PRODUCTION (FILM AND TELEVISION)

OVERVIEW

Have you ever wanted to be a Film Director? Have you ever wanted to be a cameraman or Film editor? Then this course can be your first steps into a career in the Film and Television industry.

Our Level 3 courses in Creative Digital Media Production have been designed to provide learners with the knowledge, skills and understanding necessary to progress to degree level or into employment within the media sector. It provides those with an interest in particular media specialism to explore, develop and test their creativity while working towards a qualification which is stimulating and also demanding.

While studying on our Level 3 Foundation Diploma in Creative Digital Media Production (Film and Television) students will have the opportunity to develop their skills working on Film-making and Television production units. You will learn how to storyboard, write scripts, shoot and edit films, work in a TV Studio and much more. You will do all this while working with industry standard software and equipment to prepare you for working in the industry straight away.

Alongside studying specialist units you will study theoretical units which explore media audiences and representations to give you a knowledge of the theories that underpin creative media production. The units you will study over the year are:

Unit 1 – Media Representations

Unit 4 – Pre-Production Portfolio (Film and Television)

Unit 6 – Media Campaigns

Unit 8 – Responding to a Commission

Unit 10 – Film Production (Fiction)

Unit 17 – News Production

This course duration is one year and it is the equivalent of 1.5 A-levels. Upon completion students have the option to increase the size of the qualification by continuing on and studying our Level 3 Extended Diploma in Creative Digital Media Production (Film and Television).
